Con-Real Promotes Joseph Breedlove to Senior Vice President and Ammie Harris to Vice President

ARLINGTON, TEXAS (October 2, 2008) Con-Real, LP, the Number 1 Black Construction and Real Estate Firm in Texas and the Southwest, today announced the promotion of Joseph Breedlove to Senior Vice President and Ammie Harris to Vice President of Southern Region.

“Joe has been an integral part of the Con-Real family for almost twenty years, and we are thrilled to promote him to this important position,” said Gerald Alley, President of Con-Real.

Mr. Breedlove joined the company in 1990 as Director of Construction Operations and quickly rose to several supervisory and management positions.

Mr. Breedlove received his degree at Tarrant County College as well as received many years of experience as the Owner of JEB Construction Company in Fort Worth. When initially participating on a project as a subcontractor to Con-Real years ago, Mr. Breedlove decided to join forces with Con-Real thus helping maintain Con-Real’s reputation as a leader in the construction and real estate industries.

Ms. Harris, a licensed attorney and a native of Kentucky, joined the Con-Real team as its legal counsel including overseeing regulatory issues and ensuring compliance on construction and real estate projects for Con-Real. With her background in contract law and research analysis, in addition to Vice President, Ms. Harris serves as Con-Real’s General Counsel and manages Con-Real’s Little Rock Office.

Ms. Harris received a juris doctorate degree from the William H. Bowen School of Law (University of Arkansas at Little Rock). She is a member of the Arkansas Bar Association and Trial Lawyers Association.

Con-Real, LP. is a construction and real estate company with its corporate office in Arlington and additional offices in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Austin, Little Rock, San Jose, and Oakland.
